Last Week: Guatemala Service Trip

Jim and Sonja Ozbun reported on their participation in a Rotary service trip to Montericco, Guatemala, this spring. While there they spent a majority of their time working on a new school being built in the area. The team that they went with included eight other people: three from Fargo, one from Duluth, one from Wisconsin, one from California, and two Peace Core workers from California. The group spent most of their time painting but also spent time reading and socializing with some of the students at the school.

One of the participants painted an underwater theme on the outside walls of the school, and some of the students were invited to help with the painting.
